UNIVERSAL CONSTITUTION MEDICINE

Read the testimony of an eminent Boston Farrier

BOSTON, January 8th 1848

Messrs. Fuller & Grant, Gentlemen—At the request of your Agent, I send you my opinion of your celebrated Dow's Heave or Asthma Universal Constitution Medicine, as well as a cure for the Heaves and all diseases arising from an affection of the bronchial tubes or pulmonary airs, many glands near the lungs, and also for the general Coughs in horses. I recommend it to the public as the most delightful remedy for the cure of Heaves, Sustain, Colds, Coughs, Influenza, Fevers, Pleurisy, Lung Fever, Skin and Chest, Fever, Pleurisy, Lung Fever, Bound, Inflammation of the Kidneys and Mucous Membrane. It is a vegetable compound which operates upon the blood and system in such a manner that it will in a short time entirely free the system from all impurities, and cause the animal to have a fine coat of hair to fall off in due time, making way for the new and imparts to it a fine and glossy appearance.

THOMAS JONES, Farrier

CAUTION—The astonishing success of Dow's Heave Cure for the last two years in the United States, has induced several persons to imitate and counterfeit it, and they even go so far as to mention the public against it, and endeavor thereby to palm off their nostrums as the only genuine article. We declare that Dow's Heave Cure is the first article of the kind ever introduced in the United States, and we hereby offer the sum of One Thousand Dollars to any person or persons who will prove to the contrary. Consequently all others must be imitations.

PATENTS.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE,

And Agency of the U S Patent Office, Washington

22 State Street—Boston.

THE subscriber by appointment from the Commissioner of Patents is Agent of the U S Patent Office for receiving and forwarding to the same models specimens or manufactures to be patented, or deposited therein which will be sent free of expense and risk, and with despatch. He will prepare Caveats, specifications, Assignments and all the necessary Papers and Drawings for Patents, will make researches into American and Foreign works to test the validity of inventions and render advice on legal and scientific matters respecting the same. Patents procured in Europe and other countries.

By application at this office inventors are saved the time and expense of a journey to Washington and delay there, as well as all personal trouble in procuring their patents. They also have the advantage of being explained their inventions and specifications in person, and receive their patents in from ten to fifteen days from the time of application.

The experience of fifteen years practice as Assistant Examiner in the Patent Office, and subsequently as Solicitor of Patents, gives him facilities for obtaining information respecting the novelty of inventions, and the state of the arts, which cannot be obtained by any other person in the country.

Models of inventions should be sent by Express, addressed to the subscriber, Boston. Small models may be sent by mail. Drawings should be neatly executed on paper, not exceeding a sheet of 15 by 10 inches. The price of the Agency is $30, which includes the Government fee of $15, for which the Patent will be issued in about four weeks from the time the papers are forwarded to Washington.

BE IT REMEMBERED, that Lewis Cass has received over SIXTY THOUSAND DOLLARS for extra services, when he was paid for his whole time by the Government.

BE IT REMEMBERED, that Lewis Cass voted to censure Gen Taylor for not sacrificing the lives of his own troops and the lives of the Mexican women and children, for no purpose.

BE IT REMEMBERED, that he who votes for Cass and Butler votes to give the Slaveholders the casting vote in the Senate of the United States.—Bath Times.

"Keep it Before the People."

At the Utica convention of Barnburners that met in February last, the following resolution was reported by a committee of which JOHN VAN BUREN WAS A MEMBER and unanimously adopted

Resolved, That Gen. ZACHARY TAYLOR by his masterly correspondence with the War Department no less than by his heroic conduct and indomitable coolness and courage on the field of battle has shown himself to be not only a distinguished military chieftain, but a man of great mental and moral power, and whose life has given evidence of a strong head, an honest heart, and a Republican simplicity of character.

Washingtonian Meetings.

These veteran workers in the cause of Temperance have revived an interest in their meetings, and it is now no sacrifice of time for any person to attend them, if it rather a matter of pleasure. A great many valuable thoughts are suggested there—second arguments are offered and deeply interesting stories related. It is worth while for every man to devote every Monday evening to the cause of temperance to comply with the Washingtonians. We understand that the clergymen of the city, several of them, certainly, have engaged to deliver addresses before these meetings, and the amount and variety of talent thus brought, in conjunction with others, can not but be highly satisfactory and efficient.

It is said that intemperance is on the increase in our city. This may be so and may not. We should think not, as we learn that fewer persons have been confined in the Watch House for the last month or two than for sometime past. There is less drunkenness visible than usual, to those who generally observe these matters. Perhaps the scarcity of money has some effect—But there is a woful amount of drinking according to all testimony. There are some very good men who are now drinking who we greatly fear may spon and suddenly run into absolute and palpable drunkenness. Worse than all, we do as the fact that many, indeed perhaps we might to say the most of our young men drink in social glass and sip the death damper of intoxication. Bitter tears of deep anguish are shed by many a fond mother and proud father over a son when they do not even half suspect their daughters, their temptations nor the results.

Let those who are in any manner exposed, seek out a remedy and join one of the many of prevention and cure attending the Washingtonian meetings on every Monday evening.

☞ The times are close and hard. We understand and feel the truth of this, and yet we are so placed, as to be unable to contract the expenditures of our establishment. People will to read, and in order to furnish them with paper we must keep up our number of workmen—We must ask earnestly of those who are furnished with our paper day after day and week after weeks and who have neglected to make payment, to make an effort to help us. Send us a part, a little if not the whole amount—Our receipts bear no proportion now, to the amount due us and to the obligations to pay us, which rest upon very many who are abundantly able to pay now. We cannot call personally upon all. Neither can we wait forever.

☞ The Saco Union says that every Whig should think twice before giving countenance to the projects of those who favor the Free Soil Convention in this city. The Union is right.

JOHN DAVIS'S LETTER.

It is with great pleasure that we lay the following letter of Hon John Davis before our readers. There is no man living whom the people of New England more highly respect. They know the man. We ask their attention to the following letter. It is full of truth, and cannot fail to have a powerful influence throughout the Union.—

Letter from Hon. John Davis.

WASHINGTON, June 23, 1848.

GENTLEMEN.—Your favor came to me yesterday, but my duties in the Senate were such, that I could not reply until to-day. I should be gratified to comply with your request to be present at the Baltimore meeting of to-morrow, but it is out of the question. You will pardon me, nevertheless, in expressing my great satisfaction to observe that the people of Worcester—the good old Whig town—are not inattentive to passing events. The crisis is undeniably eventful, the dangers besetting our path imminent, the prayers of the virtuous and the entreaties of the suffering are raised from all quarters, urging every patriot to make a serious, an earnest effort to rescue the liberties of the people from the perils which threaten them. Let us look at our position, and see what is demanded of us.

In 1845 when the present administration entered upon its duties, the republic was in a state of peace with all the world, and that people enjoying a degree of prosperity and happiness of unparalleled. What a change has since come over us! In this brief space of time we have been brought, chiefly by the overshadowing influence of the one man power. It is a sad but fearful declaration of the great affliction which may be brought upon the country by the abuse of that power, even in feeble hands. The President is chief of the Constitution, prompted the subversion into a war with Mexico, and is still pushing it with which multitudes of our citizens have no sympathy, carried on a need of the most unjustifiable purposes, wasted, and is at present debt has been created to burden our future resources.

Why is the Constitution has been thus wrested for all these purposes, the revenue squandered, acquire territory by conquest, laws made for the benefit of the people by the representatives of Congress have been set aside by the perverse use of the veto, and the people have been denied the right to expend their hard earned own money to repair their highways, to make and canals?

Under the revenue law of 1846, the Whig tariff as the enemies of American industry and pleas of the Polk Baltimore platform, by which ous—our commerce affected by the restored—our business revived and the country and the credit were again restored to its wonted prosperity. The songs of the laborer—the high hearts, with strong arms gave example promptness, energy to our industrial pursuits.

In the judgment of the present administration a policy which produced such results was inexpedient, and we have acquired territory—and laws which are to secure foreign labor while they bring home—were more desirable and better suited to the views of democracy. The low tariff of 1846 was repealed—and war, sub treasury and free trade were substituted. Thus the laborer has been left to struggle against not only foreign competition, but a tide of opposition from his own government.

In this state of things the Presidential election is coming on, and shall we vote, as a great and united party, rescue the country from its perils and restore the days of prosperity?

The Democrats have placed before the people Mr Cass, who is the avowed exponent, and who has been the chief adviser of the present system. His opinions prove but too clearly that, if elected, we have nothing to anticipate but aggravated state of the present policy.

The Whig Convention, after full deliberation among the friends of the country, and determined by a large majority, Gen Taylor as their candidate. But what the result may be no one can tell. Intrigues are said to exist, which are suspected however to be chiefly from sectional feelings. I trust, however, that the intelligence of such sentiments no one will lose sight of the condition of the country, or of the perils which beset us. I rely upon a question which the Democratic candidate shall come from the north or the south, the people will call him. The Constitution suspended on the which control—our liberties are at stake, and our duties are co-extensive with both. The wise, the virtuous—those whose efforts to live are made fruitless by vicious legislation—and those who are denied all right to the fruits of their money—all look to the approaching election and earnestly hope for the redemption of the country.

The crisis demands a united and harmonious action of all the strength of Whig principles and men throughout the Union, and I trust that no considerations of a dispassionate review of our condition, as it is, and as it will be, if we fail, will allay discontent and avert the perilous consequences arising from distract ng counsels and the waning our strength. I sincerely hope that patriotism may prevail over and assuage disappointment, and that we may not in an evil hour, by false or left to deplore defeat which can not fail to be a barren victory to those who result, it shall be brought about by Whigs who abandon their standard.

I am gentlemen one of those who entertain with the Whig party, and have the gratification to have been a means to preserve it from under the belief, that the ugly the blessing of Divine Providence, its strength in numbers and mental power, will be sufficient to protect the country against the madness of ambition which assails us.

I desire no less an honest, sound, capable Whig and none but a Whig Chief Magistrate—a magistrate who will be content with the powers confided to him by the constitution—one who will not seek to annex foreign territory by conquest to annex it to the United States—one who will follow the principles of the fathers of the revolution in postponing all the acquisitions of territory until the people in the territories have the requisite population to form state governments, and then only admit them into the Union on an equal footing with the original states. Such a man is Gen Taylor, and such I believe him to be. I know that he is a Whig—I know that he is a gentleman—I know that he is a man of honor—and I know that he is a man of integrity. I know that he is a man of sense—I know that he is a man of judgment. I know that he is a man of discretion. I know that he is a man of prudence. I know that he is a man of wisdom.

Those who best know him, not only bear willing testimony to these traits of character, but they accord to him a sound, discriminating intellect—a mind distinguished for its straightforward common sense.

No man can be fully known until tested by a long train of his merits; but these high moral qualities constitute a good foundation for faith to give good assurance, and that all who possess them will not fail.

I might advert to other avowals contained in his correspondence, and especially in his letter to Mr Allison, but it would carry this letter into too great length. It is evident from that, if elected, his purpose is to leave Congress to settle questions of domestic policy, and to circumscribe the executive power to the limits assigned to it by the Constitution, believing, as he declares he does, that those of late, been greatly and unlawfully extended. Upon the subject of the tariff, the currency, the improvement of the harbors, rivers, lakes, and harbors, (he declares,) the will of the people as expressed through their representatives in Congress, ought to be respected and carried out by the Executive. He says again "the principles of our Government, as well as its true policy, require us to the subjugation of other nations, are the discouragement of other countries by our example. These are principles which I believe the great Whig party will most cordially approve. But he whole letter is before you and will speak for itself.

It has been said and that by us a military character, and it is true that few men in any age or nation have achieved more brilliant success during the last three years. With some five thousand men, chiefly volunteers and new recruits, he routed the regular Mexican Army of 20,000 men, commanded by their most distinguished generals and best soldiers. His victory was against such fearful odds, and by means, under the people. In that event the choice of President devolves upon the present House, voting by States, and of Vice President upon the Senate.

Will Congress of Maine will support Gen Taylor in the event?

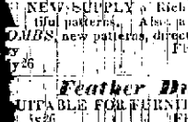
Alister's All-Healing Ointment.



WHEN this Ointment is worn upon the chest and warmed into the feet, it not only acts upon the organs of the chest, but the whole nervous system feels influence. It moves along on the nerves and thus find sits way to the liver, lungs, stomach and brain imparting increased activity and energy to these organs, while it separates and sets free every impurity or humor that may be lodged there, and expels it to the surface. Hence the extraordinary rapidity and certainty with which it cures asthma, coughs and lung complaint. Also sciatica, ague, consumption and spinal diseases.

Its first action is to open the pores of the flesh, smart tone and increase energy to the skin; also such penetrate to any part of the internal viscera, and expel diseases and impure particles from the system. It performs precisely as nesbiness what is here performs for horses. In short, having the full use of every function of the body

It is in's power which enables the Ointment to keep off all outward eruptions, skin diseases of every description; also to subdue all inflammations, fevers of all bowel complaints; in short, by keeping the pores of the skin open and restoring health and nervous energy to all the organs of the body.

READ THIS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 8, 1848.

Mr. James McAlister—Dear Sir—Having purchased a few bottles of your Hair Oil last summer, I persuaded my sister, who had lost her hair from some disease of the head, to try it. She had used Doyle's Hyperion Fluid and several other articles recommended for the hair, without any benefit. Results, but after having made use of your Hair Oil a short time, the hair began to make its appearance and she has now a fine head of hair.

Respectfully yours,

SAMUEL A. BADGER

MRS. E. KIDDER'S DYSENTERY CORDIAL,

—AN—

Immediate & Perfect Cure

FOR

CHOLERA MORBUS, DYSENTERY, DIARRHŒA, SUMMER COMPLAINTS OF CHILDREN & A SICKNESS, GEN ERALLY BEAUTIFUL BOTTLE, with

WHILE the old saying that "one is at hand," is a true one, it is by no means to be acted upon with the confidence of a well established article, only the result of a very long course of experiment.

It has been before the public for more than six years, and wherever it has been introduced its merits have been fully appreciated, and every day's experience adds to the confidence of its friends, and increases the number of its patrons. It has been repeatedly assailed by the Press, and every effort made to destroy its reputation, but to no avail. The Cordial was not assumed to be a panacea for all diseases, or any thing more than in the hands of the proprietors a valuable remedy.

Cholera and Common Cholera Morbus.

The Cordial is peculiarly adapted to the cure of Cholera Morbus, and in the prevalence of the present disease, it is confidently recommended to the public as the most safe, speedy and effectual remedy that can be procured.

Severest cases of Dysentery, of long standing, have yielded to the use of this Cordial, after the most eminent physicians of the place had failed to give relief, and in the short time of cures have been effected in cases of long standing, after the most celebrated remedies had been tried in vain.

Cholera Infantum

It has proved itself the most certain remedy that is known for this disease, and in fact it is accompanied, it will be found to relieve the most violent cases of vomiting, purging or pain of whatever nature.

Children that are Teething, or during the Dentition, should always be provided with this valuable medicine, as it will keep the bowels regulated, and keep off the Cholera Infantum. It is very pleasant and pleasant to the taste, and children are fond of it, and will take it without trouble or bother.

For General Debility and Dyspepsia, it is a most excellent restorative, giving a healthy tone to the stomach and bowels, and prevents food from passing off undigested.

CAUTION.

Beware of those impositions which are daily palmed off upon the public, bearing the name of some article which is CHOLERA MORBUS DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA CORDIAL, which cause no other result than disappointment and predatory addresses. Many have come to us for the purpose of poisoning the worthless articles at the expense and reputation of this original and truly popular medicine, that have come before the public.

Be sure that you obtain MRS. E. KIDDER'S Cholera Morbus Dysentery and Diarrhœa Cordial, and you will get the only true and original article, which has ever been entitled to the highest estimation in the public throughout the whole country.

☞ Large size bottles holding nearly a quart including family size, and sold at Only 50 cts a bottle.

DISEASES OF THE Throat and Lungs.

COLDS and Colds the fruitful parents of Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Pleurisy and all other dangerous diseases, are too often neglected in the incipient stage of the Second Complaint is laid deep in the system AP ply to it at once with the proper remedy but trust the same to time and the attendant symptoms become more and more alarming Do not be deceived with the idea that a cough is of no consequence Nor that you have had a cough so long that nothing can be done for it Nor that your case is peculiar and different from all others Nor that you cannot afford to pay for relief Nor that you will try it next week Nor that you will try something else first Nor that you are too far from a Physician Nor that you cannot leave home Nor that you cannot change your employment Nor that you cannot endure the nauseous dose Nor that you cannot bear the taste But go at once to the Agent and get a bottle of

DR. VONDERSMITH'S INDIAN COUGH BALSAM and Lung Balsam,

CURED

Of Twenty Years Standing!

CITY OF NEW YORK July 21st 1847

This is to Certify that I Nelson Lansdale of Jersey City have been subject to a severe hacking cough and a pain in the right side of the chest for the length of twenty years and during the last seven years I was confined to my house and for the last three months of the time I was confined to my bed and could not sit up in bed without support I employed the best physicians in the city of New York but they gave me no relief I was induced to try Dr Vondersmith's Indian Cough Balsam and Lung Balsam by the advice of a friend who had been cured by the use of it and I am happy to say that I am entirely cured by the use of three bottles of the Balsam and I feel it my duty to recommend it to the public as the best medicine I ever used for the cure of Consumption Liver Complaint and Affection of the Lungs and Throat

CONSUMPTION

STATEN ISLAND 13th 1847

DEAR SIR—I have every reason to believe that your Balsam has cured me of a severe cough and pain in the side and chest from which I suffered for the last twelve months I followed the use of it for five weeks when I was entirely restored to health and strength I have recommended your Balsam to many persons since I was cured of my disease and they have all been benefited by the use of it

Reliable Evidence of the Efficacy of DR CHANDLER'S ANODYNE BALSAM

(From the Evening Journal)

While we publish this day's western correspondence we give it for what it is worth as we do not endorse the statements therein contained We will however say that a few days ago a brother of ours from Newburyport came into our office in comfortable health when we did not expect to see him again on earth We did not leave him for two weeks and from accounts received from the house with him every day we considered him to be in a dying condition He was confined to his bed and could not move himself without assistance and when he was able to sit up he could enter or leave the house only when carried as it would have been fatal to him to have walked He was in this condition when he began to use Dr Chandler's Anodyne Balsam and from the time he began to use it he began to improve and in two weeks was able to walk to the post office and get his letters which he addressed to himself Again for days and weeks we called to see him and he daily told us he was better and could eat more than he could when we saw him before and in short was gaining every day

Boston Feb 16 18 7

DR D F Bradley—Sir—I came to Boston to buy a gross of your Anodyne for Dr Richardson's Liniment but after he had examined the bottle he said he would not have it for he knew it was a good thing who sent it I told him I was thankful

My wife was in a very low state of health for a long time and was completely worn out with a cough and pain in the side and breast I got her a bottle of your Balsam and before she had taken it all she was entirely relieved from her cough and pain and has been in good health ever since
